Main Street Office Building - Baltimore, MD

Polt Design Group was commissioned to design the first 5 story office building in downtown Bel Air, MD. Bel Air allows properties to be up to five stories high, or 65 feet, in the town center overlay district.

The 26,500 square foot building consisted of five floors each containing 5,300 square feet of space. Retail space would occupy the first floor and the remaining floors would be office space.

The entire building was designed in Autodesk Revit to allow for 3-D modeling capabilities for the client to visualize the structure as well as the city officials that would subsequently approve the design.
